(U/~~FOUO~~) Captioned investigation is predicated based upon Tampa's referenced investigation, 288A-TP-74641. On September 24, 2012, Tampa FBI agents [REDACTED] interviewed Paula BROADWELL, date of birth, [REDACTED] social security number [REDACTED]. BROADWELL provided the agents with two personal laptops, which were forensically examined by the FBI, and found to contain what is believed to be several classified documents. BROADWELL was again interviewed on November 2, 2012 by the same Tampa agents. At which time, BROADWELL was advised that several classified documents were found on the computers she provided the agents on September 24, 2012. BROADWELL identified several of the documents shown to her as being from her time in Afghanistan, but was unable to provide specifics on how she obtained them. BROADWELL spent several months in Afghanistan researching her book on David PETRAEUS. During her time in Afghanistan, BROADWELL was given access to several briefings at the secret classification level. She stated that she would sometimes obtain a paper copy of the briefings she attended in order to preserve as research for her book.

I just spoke to UC [REDACTED] regarding Charlotte providing a copy of the subject's personal photos stored on an image that is evidence per her request. Security Compliance Unit (SCU) concurs with our actions based on two person integrity review once photos are moved to a external device. SCU did reach out to [REDACTED] Unit Chief [REDACTED] for consultation based on the case sensitivity as did the Charlotte Division consulting with the USAO and the CDC regarding the release of the subjects personal photos. It has been determined that these images are okay to release onto a new data storage device ensuring only those personal photos be saved and returned. All-

After discussion with AUSA [redacted] the reverse proffer with [redacted] attorney has been tentatively set for February 19th. There were some conflicts the first two weeks of February, so this was the first date that worked for both parties. Additionally, [redacted] attorney's have not been contacted yet as it was determined [redacted] reverse proffer would occur first. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks-

As you know, today was the first [redacted] between Charlotte's AUSA, DOJ, and [redacted] attorneys. The meeting went well for us, and [redacted] attorneys were in receive mode. Based on upcoming travel and the need to meet with [redacted] we do not expect to hear back from [redacted] attorneys for several weeks. No specific deadline was given. As we receive updates from the US Attorney's Office, we will pass them along.

(S) Meetings with [redacted] attorneys will occur tomorrow. I will send a separate update then.

We do have one administrative matter to handle. The defense attorneys are taking classified notes which will need to be transported from Charlotte to DOJ's Litigation Security Group. The notes will be double-wrapped by each defense team, flaps will be initialed, and each package will be placed in a lock bag. The defense teams will lock their own bag and retain both keys. We request a TR number for a Charlotte Agent (TBD) to travel to DC within the next five business days to courier these lock bags.

Thanks for your continued support.
